A very even race earned but "little" Elsworth was too ensured the tribute. He was the salvard of the salvard the could be received to make a fresh start with the other competitors. Randall soon showed this apperiority, and swimming well throughout won somewhat easily by about 10 yards. Tablot and Delanoy being second and third respectively within a yard of each other. After this followed the event of the year, viz, the 110 yards seniors championship for a handsome silver challenge cup presented by Mr. H. P. Kingham. There were 9 starters and but for the absence of the E.T.C. staff at Seat there would have been a lar larger entry. The following started, viz, Mesers. J. Breschomb, A. B. Collier, E. A. Darton, A. Last year he was fifth in the same race, and the present result speaks volumes for the progress he has made. Collier was second and Ecolestone third, barely a foot dividing the two. After these events a polo match was played between the slob and a team from H. H. S. Afta, agreement is by the following: A.S.C.—Mesurs Darton, Ecolestone, Lovell, Lupton, Randall, Webb and Wood, H. On resuming the match even play was writenessed until close on time, when there more goals, were scored by the cloth through Darton, Ecolestone and Wood. We may add that for H.M.S. Aris Masers. Wat, Irvin and Winter played excellently, and but for the grand goal-keeping of the latter, the core must have been far larger.

After this the prises (given by the clot) were presented to the successful competitors by Mr. Walter P. Sujeant, (chairman), who made a short but appropriate speech to each. Thus ended the third and most successful season of the A.S.O., and there is no doubt that the elob has been established on a firm footing in Alexandria. #### THE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.

EYE-WITNESS'S ACCOUNT.

The following interesting account of the recent celipse of the sun, which appears in the October number of the All Saints' Church Magazine, is from the pen of the Rev. J. P. Burna, assistant chaplain at Cairo:—As I found that I could leave Caise on Monday night, see the celipse from Assonan and return to Cairo by 7.30 on Sanday morning, it remed a great pity to miss such a splendid opportunity. Thanks to the kirdness of the Rev. D.M. Thornton and the Rev. P. I. Anderson, I was able to go with an easy conscience. The S'o'clock train on Monday was quite an "Eclipse special" as most of the passengers were going to Assonan to see it. After travelling through clouds of dast we arrived at Laxor at 3.30. Well again at 10 citock and soon felt courselves being tasked in what seemed to be really an oven on wheels, and only called by coursely a saloon. I am told that the journey from Laxor to Assonan at this time of the years is one of the bottest in the sort we have a found the course of the of the year is one of the hottest in th time of the year is one of the hottest in the world. I quite believe it true. But all journeys, however hot and dusty, come to an end, and ours snded punctually at 4 30; soon we were in the Savoy Hotel eejoying the luxury of a bath in the red muddy water of the Nile. It bath in the red moddy water of the Nile. It did not look inviting, but it was most refreshing. We found the various missions in a consider able state of accitement. They were going through a final rebeareal; in feet a sort of dress rebearsal of the actual work to be done during the eclipse. These went off without during the solipse. These went off without a hitch.

The next morning I went to see Philas and the Assonan Dam with two others, returning across the desert on donksys. Near the railway station, in fact almost on, the platform, was the big 130 ft. reflecting camera, and the ground all round had just been well dooded by the fire-negine so that no dust might get on to big reflectors. One mirror reflects the image of the sun 130.ft. along a canwar tube on to another mirror, which in turn reflects it back along the same tube to a camera placed beside the first mirror. At the time of the sclipse, just before totality, the afternoon train was seen approaching, but as this wibration would have ruined all the expensers, that is for as long as the train was moving, it had to be stopped at all costs. In this they aren have rained all the exposures, that is for as long as the train was moving, it had to be stopped at all coats. In this they were successful by, dint of much shooting, and the train came to a standatill outside the station. After lunch I made a complete tour of all the stations of observation. The island had been practically convaried; into a big observatory. #### THE AMERICAN INSURANCE SCANDALS.

SUANDALIS.

The revelation now being made as to the wanner in which the siffairs of the great American insurance companies, the Equitable, the New York Life, and the Muttal are conducted have astounded the financial world. The trouble began with the Equitable, and its original causes are obsoure. The Equitable had in 1904. £34,000,000 of assets and a steadily growing carpins of profits over and above the liabilities to policy-bolders. Until the winter of 1904 it had the repetation of the Bask of England. It was controlled until by by two men, its vio-president, Mr. Hyde, and its president, Mr. Alexander was the treates under the will of Mr. Hyde, senior, father of the vio-president Mr. Alexander was the standing in the New York business world.

Mr. Hyde was a young man, 39 years of age, and more vio-president Mr. respected. From the profit of the properties of the ments, he seems to have been regarded as a man of pleasure pure and simple, and the suspicion which his follies aroused led one or more of his fellow directors on the board of the company to devise schemes for eliminating him from its control.

THE FOWERS BEHIND.

The leader in this movement was Mr. Alexander, but it must not be supposed that his motives were estimitely disinterested, since he has since not scrupled to join hands with the very man whom he attacked.

The war between Mr. Hyde and Mr. Afsrander opened with an attempt on the part of the latter to give the policy-holder the right to choose the finishal who were to manage their property and ravings. The concern was to be made a mutual one, in the true sense. In November last it became knowing sense. In November last it became he that Mr. Alexander sought to out Mr. From the positions of first vice president occupably, and presently a statement emane from Mr. Alexander was published, to effect that Mr. Hyde's reelection "would meet transfell the Alexander was published, to effect that Mr. Hyde's ree'ection "would be must prejudiciate to the welfare and progress of the society... Mr. Hyde's promisence in various ways and his acts as vice president are such as tend to provoke ordinism of the society, to create misgivings as to the con-servation of its management, and to injoy or its business as an institution which has been miniterally held out to the public as conducted solely on the mutual plan."

A conference of Equitable agents called for Mr. Hyde's retirement from the company, and when the two parties to the dispute, receiving their previous quarrel, admitted that the officials and directors of the company, including both the immoral Mr. Hyde and writtones Mr. Alexander, had formed syndicates for prependative purposes, and in them employed the funds of the a viety to obtain profit for thesestres, the American public demanded symmon's bloom.

So monumental a seardal required close ard thorough investigation. The wildest reports as to the condition of the company were current. It was said that it was insolved; though the allegation was absurd, and there was no hainous orime which was not imputed to its onicials. It was adid that it was insolved; though the allegation was absurd, and there was no hainous orime which was not imputed to its onicials. It was quite clear from what the two factions had published about each other that the law of the United States, which forbids any director or insurance offinial to make personal profit by making sales to his society or lease of its funds, had been continually violated, and to meet the criticism of the Press and policy holders the conduct of the Press and policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as each policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as each policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as the pressed as each policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as each policy holders and policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as the pressed as the pressed as a policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as a policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as a policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as a policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as a policy holders and policy holders are the pressed as a policy holders an

Its disclourse were of the graves nature. It was shown that Mr. Alexander, with Mr. Hyde and certain other persons, had sold honds to the amount of £2,00,000; ndirectly, to the company. Mr. Hyde, the report stated, "habitizally involved the scoiety in transactions of great magnitude without the previously obtained association of the axecutive committee. There forther disclosures naturally increased the anxiety and indignation of the stockholder who had been plundered by Mr. Hyde, Mr. Alexander, and the host of honored, and re spected names figuring among the directors and officials of the Equitable, and the demand was offinials of the Rquitable, and the demand was formulated that the culprits should be made to disporge their ill-gotten gains. Thirty Phila-delphian policy-holders, oppressuring policies of over £1,000,000, brought an action to secure the appointment of a receiver, on the ground that the Equitable Complany was insolvent, charging the management with "waste, mis-appropriation of funds, and frand," and requir-ing the "starm of the plunder made by what Americans describe as "graft" and gran." That sation is still proceeding, and manatime the Americans describe as "graft and grab." That action is still proceeding, and meantime the following charges have been made and for the most part established by the Prick report and by the report of Mr. Handricks, Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York:—

Included among the defendants are the leading men in the American basiness world, names—not to mention Mr. Hyde and Mr. Alarade—such as that of Senstor Channesy Depew, A. J. Cassatt, A. G. Deliberate fraud is not imputed to the directors in the State suit against them. But they are charged with laxity and indifference of the crawest nature.
